DAMAGE TO FRUIT BELIEVED SLIGHT

Local Orchardists Declare Buds Have Not Matured Enough to be Injured Seriously.

COLDER WEATHER PREDICTED

April Gets Seasons Twisted Around, Bringing Snow, Cold Wave, Rain An' Everything.

April is badly mixed up on the schedule of seasons. March did its best to inaugurate spring weather before it turned over control to the present month, but fickle April, true to its past record, is unable to manipulate the elements. Today has brought nearly every kind of weather except the variety that should come at this time of the year. Snow, rain, slush, mud and even a little sunshine were mingled, with snow and rain predominating.

The weather bureau in Indianapolis predicts colder weather for tonight although Wednesday will be fair, if the weather man up at the Indiana capital knows anything about the conditions.

A number of local people today recalled a four-foot snow which fell just thirty-two years ago today. Roads and streets were blocked and traffic was hampered. Although snow in April is not unusual, a fall of four feet is seldom recorded in this part of the state at this season of the year.

Local orchardists are concerned as to the probable damage that has resulted to the fruit from the cold weather and snow. Some of them declare that the snow itself is not liable to injure the buds, but that the blossoms are now in such condition that they are easily killed by freezing weather. Some peach and plum trees have been in full blossom for several days. Some of the orchardists do not believe that serious damage has yet resulted to the fruit and that it will escape unless severe weather should follow the rain and snow storm. Not many trees in the commercial orchards are in blossom at this time, it is stated, and the buds are closed sufficiently to furnish protection from the cold.

The melting snow and the rain will leave the ground in such condition that spring plowing cannot be resumed for several days. Many acres of oats have already been sown in this county and additional acreage has been prepared but the farmers were unable to get the seed into the ground on account of the rain and cold. Most farmers hoped to have oats sowing out of the way by the tenth or the middle of the present month, at the latest, but the unexpected rain and snow may result in further delay.

Gardeners say that some damage has been done to early vegetables. Many beds of onions, lettuce, peas and other early crops have been prepared and while the cold is not believed severe enough to kill the vegetables their growth will be checked. Some city gardeners report that they have lettuce and peas through the ground and these may be nipped.

SEWERAGE SYSTEM WILL BE COSTLY

Proposed Improvement Cannot be Completed Without Expenditure of Large Sum.

REFERENDUM IS SUGGESTED

Recommendation That People Decide Matter Before Preliminary Survey is Made.

Those in Seymour who are interested in the construction of a new sewerage system designed to meet the requirements of all parts of the city and have inquired as to the cost of the proposed improvement have found that the expenditure will be a princely sum, even viewed in the light of the present day reckless use of erstwhile valuable money. Of course the exact cost of the proposed sewerage system cannot be stated until after the specifications are prepared and proposals are filed by bidders, but those who have given the matter close attention declare that the total cost will exceed $200,000 but will not go beyond $300,000. Conservative estimates place the cost in the neighborhood of $250,000.

The council now has before it a proposal that a contract be awarded for a preliminary survey with the preparations of plans and specifications. The committees having this in charge believe that such a survey is necessary before further action can be taken. During the last few days, however, considerable attention has been given the proposition and it has been recommended that the proposed construction of the sewerage system be referred to a referendum vote of the people. It is pointed out that enough figures are available to give the public an idea of the cost and that if the residents do not want the system built now they ought to be given a chance to express their sentiments before $1,500 or $2,000 is expended for a preliminary survey which would be entirely useless unless the system is built.

The public would understand that the proposed referendum was called for a final decision, although definite figures as to the cost could not be given. However, in a matter of this magnitude a difference of a few thousand dollars either way would not influence many voters.

According to the best available information it will cost about $70,000 to repair the main channel of the sewer from the west corporation line to the river. In case a sedimentation basin is constructed in place of a larger channel the cost would not be greatly changed. The expense of the main channel would fall upon all the property owners of the city. It is estimated that this alone would be

ANOTHER FEEBLE MINDED BOY BEING HELD HERE

Appeared at Police Station Late Monday Afternoon Looking for Work.

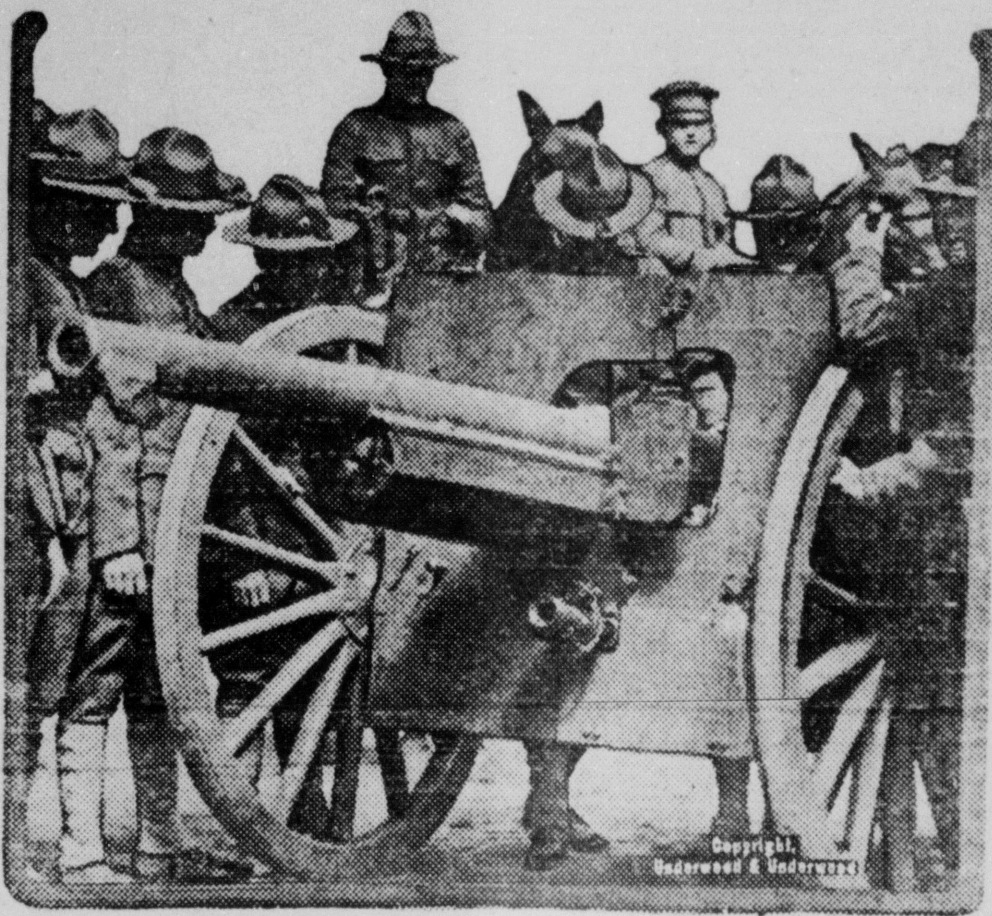

Charles Hadley, an escaped inmate of the new state feeble minded school recently opened at Butlerville, Jennings county, is being held at the local police station until an officer of that institution can come here and take him back. Hadley ran away in company with Norman Vincent, another inmate of the school, who was picked up by the police in this city Saturday and has been returned to Butlerville.

Hadley appeared at the police station late Friday afternoon looking for work. The officers questioned him and learned that he was the boy that the Feeble Minded school authorities had been looking for. He will be returned to Butlerville Wednesday.

U. S. ENTERED WAR THREE YEARS AGO

Formal Declaration of Hostilities Against Central Powers Made April 6, 1917.

MANY CHANGES SINCE THEN

Conflict Won for Humanity and Nation is Now Confronted with Numerous Domestic Questions.

Three years ago this afternoon, April 6, 1917, the following bulletin was flashed to The Republican office: "Washington—War was declared at 1:13 p. m. this afternoon."

The first message was brief, but it was fraught with great possibilities. Within a few seconds after the news was received at this office a bulletin was posted in the window and it did not take long for the people of Seymour to learn that the official war proclamation had been issued. At the outset many people here, as elsewhere, thought that the United States' entrance into the conflict would be passive. The man or woman who looked for extensive preparations was the exception. Many thought that the congress had taken the action to influence Germany to throw up her hands, and there were those who were confident that the central powers would do just that thing within a few hours.

April 6, 1917, was the beginning of a period of momentous events in United States history. On the following day the congress made arrangements for a great loan to the allied governments which were in financial straits due to their long participation in the conflict. What happened from April 7, 1917, until November 11, 1918, is too recent history to be repeated. During that period hundreds of Jackson county men donned the American uniform and entered training camps from which they were assigned to active duty beyond the seas.

These men are now home and along with 100,000,000 other people are trying to solve new questions, battle new conditions and strike

MICHIGAN VOTE COUNTED SLOWLY

Hiram Johnson Has Lead Over Leonard Wood in Republican Presidential Primary

LOWDEN IN FOURTH PLACE

Hoover Gets Republican Support and Holds First Place in Partial Democratic Returns.

By United Press. Detroit, Mich., April 6.—With returns complete from 1,120 precincts out of 2,421 in the state Senator Hiram Johnson maintained his commanding lead with a total vote of 104,802, as compared with 60,275 for Leonard Wood his nearest opponent. Lowden and Hoover were running neck and neck for third place with the Illinois Governor slightly in the lead, 33,088 to 32,721.

In the same precinct Edwards maintained his lead in the Democratic primary with 53,604 votes to 43,479 for Hoover. Palmer the only avowed candidate on the Democratic ticket, ran far behind, Edwards, McAdoo and Hoover.

By United Press.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 6.—With returns coming in slowly from over Michigan today, the indications were that Senator Hiram Johnson, California, had a safe lead over Leonard Wood in the Republican presidential primary conducted yesterday. Lowden is generally fourth. Not more than thirty per cent. of the vote had been counted in some districts. Returns from fifty-seven western Michigan precincts, including the cities of Petoskey and Marquette complete gave: Johnson, 2,783; Wood, 2,733; Hoover, 1,693; Lowden, 969.

For the Democrats the returns in the same precincts were: Hoover, 982; McAdoo, 415; Bryan, 240; Edwards, 243; Palmer 222.

FRENCH FORCES OCCUPY SEVERAL GERMAN CITIES

ACTION BY GREAT BRITAIN AWAITED

United States Will Likely Follow Course of England Towards French Occupation.

ITALY IS ALSO CONSULTED

This Country Recently Disapproved Advance of Allied Troops Into Germany.

By United Press. Washington, April 6.—The United States will await indications of the attitude of Great Britain and Italy before taking any action in connection with the advance of the French into German territory, it was stated officially today. This country will then concur in any stand taken by those two powers, it was added.

It was anticipated here that if Great Britain and Italy do not actively support the French move, they will at least not actively oppose the occupation of Darmstadt and other cities, although according to official views here they could properly do so and leave France alone in her course.

When the question of opposing the radical activities in the Ruhr district arose recently the United States notified the supreme council at Paris that it did not oppose the German troops being sent into that region, but indicated it did not favor an advance of the allied forces into Germany to guarantee withdrawal of the German troops.

At that time Great Britain and Italy agreed with the view of the United States.

COMMUNISTS REPORTED TO HAVE LOOTED ESSEN

Armed Brigands Hold Up Main Post-office—300 "Reds" Killed in the Ruhr District.

By United Press.

London, April 6.—Communists began looting at Essen early today, according to a dispatch from Berlin. Mobs plundered confectionary, food and shoe shops. The damage was estimated at hundreds of thousands of marks. Armed brigands held up the main post-office.

The communists' executive committee fled admitting the situation had passed beyond its control. More than three hundred "Reds" were killed when the Ruhr communists army attempted to stop the advance of the German reichswehr, the dispatch stated.

FRENCH SOLDIERS IN RUHR DISTRICT

Two Divisions of Cavalry Occupy Frankfurt, Darmstadt and Other Important Centers.

"TROOPS NOT CONQUERERS"

Action Taken Following Long Conference Between French and German Officials.

By United Press.

Paris, April 6.—French troops have entered Frankfurt and Darmstadt, it was officially stated here today. The German troops entered the two German cities simultaneously at 5 o'clock a. m.

A dispatch to the French foreign office from Mayence this afternoon said French occupation of two other cities had been completed and that a French column was nearing Homburg.

The French met with no resistance the German garrisons either surrendering or withdrawing in advance in all cities.

The foreign office announced that the German reichswehr garrison at Frankfurt had surrendered to the French occupation army. The reichswehr evacuated Darmstadt at midnight, it was announced.

The French columns occupied Eckenstein at 9 o'clock a. m., proceeding towards Disburg, which is expected to be reached by noon. Several other cities probably will be occupied later.

The army of occupation consists of two divisions, totaling 15,000 men, mostly cavalry. General DeGoutte has issued a proclamation declaring his troops are conquerors and that there will be no fighting if absolute order is maintained.

A state of siege has been proclaimed in Frankfurt, Darmstadt and several other cities, it is set forth. French occupation of German cities followed a long controversy between French and German officials in which France repeatedly charged Germany with attempting to evade the articles of the treaty of Versailles.

Operation of German public service will be continued under French control.

Strikes and gatherings of more than five people have been forbidden. Newspapers are not permitted to publish.

Telegraphs, telephones and mails have been placed under military censorship. The proclamation declares that all weapons must be delivered immediately to the city hall, except those of the regular police.

All infractions of General DeGoutte's orders will be punished by court martial.

HOME OWNING

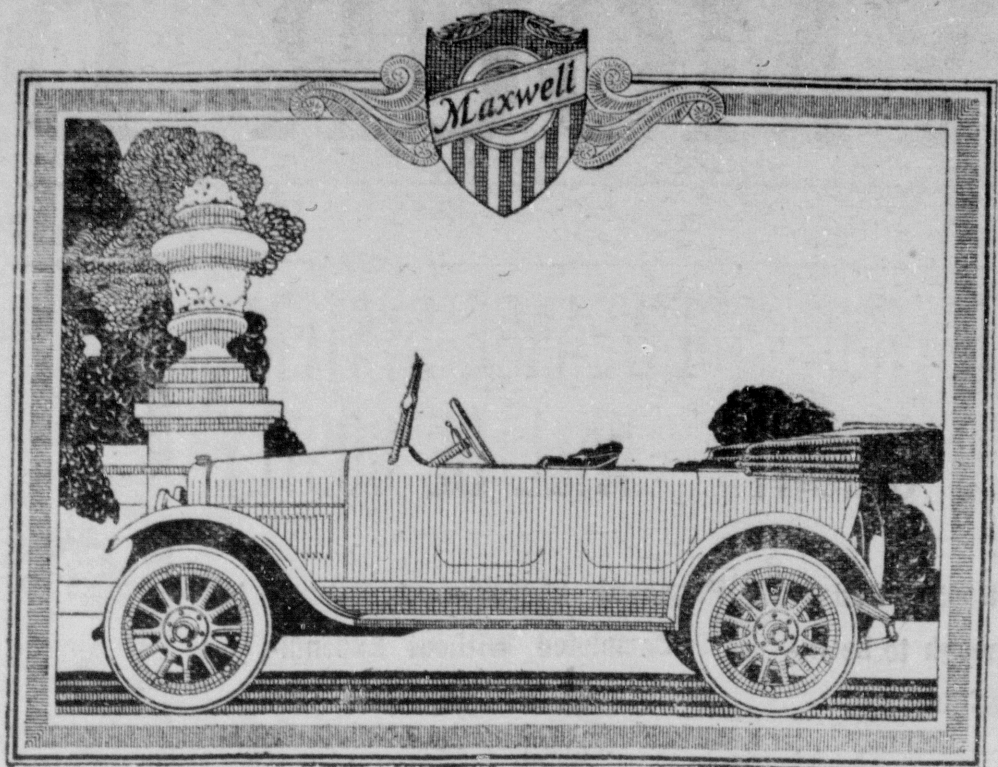

The Kokomo Chamber of Commerce has undertaken a campaign to encourage the people of that city to buy their own homes. The organization has appropriated $1,000 for advertising purposes that the value of home owning may be set before the people of Kokomo. Page advertisements are carried regularly in the Kokomo newspapers and are getting the people there to thinking about the matter.

The Chamber of Commerce is conducting its campaign on the theory that if there were more home owners the rent proposition and the house shortage problem would be solved more easily. The organization declares that "rent is a debt" and the wage earner, the business man and the professional man should get out of debt as soon as possible. It is pointed out that with the high rents that are now charged, the renter ought to put the money into an investment.

The advantages of home owning are obvious. When a family owns its own home it takes more pride in the appearance of the property. The members of such family know that they can live there as long as they hold title to the house. They are not afraid of the place being

The part that fine steels play in a MAXWELL

There is a definite reason for the brilliant performance of a Maxwell car.

Lift the bonnet and you see the simplest of engines. Examine clutch and gears, and you see supreme simplicity.

The definite reason for Maxwell performance and endurance is the fine steels, those steels built to Maxwell's own formulas, that combine quality and rare strength, that defy time and the repairman.

This is the story of the Maxwell, the real cause for brilliant performance and long endurance. These steels do not burden the engine. They make its tasks easier. They flatten out a hill for the engine.

The combination of light weight and great strength—the ideal of Maxwell construction—is thus achieved.

And to obtain that rare combination of strength with quality means costly steels. So you will find that, pound for pound, the steels in a Maxwell equal those in any car built.

That is why the rise of Maxwell has been so marked; why nearly 400,000 have been built; why 100,000 are being constructed this year; why these will fill but 60% of the demand.

sold over their heads. The Kokomo Chamber of Commerce realizes that such a campaign is worth much to the city. Home owning and Americanism go hand in hand. A congressman recently stated that a man will defend his own home with a shotgun, but no one ever heard of a man taking that much interest in his boarding house.

TRANSPORTATION.

Transportation is an important element of business and industrial conditions. Without adequate means of distribution the country cannot hope for an early restoration of normal conditions. It matters not how great production may be the manufactured article cannot reach the consumer unless the railroads are able to make shipments promptly. Delayed transportation results in a scarcity and this is felt by the consumer in the way of higher prices.

The National Bank of Commerce of New York in commenting on the railroad situation says:

"Industry continues to be hampered by inefficient transportation. This is not a condition which can be materially aided by redistribution of cars but can be remedied only by the purchase of a large amount of new equipment and the heavy repairing of old. Although a number of railroads are now in the market for rails, cars and locomotives, the buying movement has not yet reached large proportions. Extensive purchases on the part of the roads must wait the making of adequate financial plans. Some needs, however, such as the requirements of the repair shops are so urgent that buying of this kind cannot long be postponed."

What is required now is to provide ways by which the railroads may be permitted to purchase equipment needed. During the period of federal controls, as we all know, very little new equipment was bought; repairing was reduced to a minimum and the government was unable to make the roads pay even by increasing rates and passenger tariffs. The responsibilities resting upon the present management are far greater than if the roads had remained in their hands continuously during the war. The experiment with government management interrupted the system of control and even if the economic situation had not changed time would be required to again get the transportation business back to its former state of efficiency.

ELECTION COMMISSIONERS APPOINTED BY GOVERNOR

W. H. Thompson, Republican, and
W. W. Spencer, Democrat, Chosen to Serve on Board.

Governor Goodrich has appointed William H. Thompson, Republican, and W. W. Spencer, Democrat, as members of the 1920 state board of election commissioners. The appointments were made on the recommendation of the Republican and Democratic state central committees. The election law provides that the Governor shall serve as the third member of the board. Although the attorney general is not a member of the commission, it is customary to have him participate in the work of the commission as the legal adviser of the Governor.

The Governor said that he would call a meeting of the commission this week for the purpose of considering officially the question or whether women may vote at the presidential preference primary May 4. Last week the Governor was requested to appoint the State Commission by Frederick E. Schortemeier, secretary of the Republican state committee.

At the time Mr. Schortemeier said that there were two opposing legal opinions on the question of whether the women may express their choice in the Indiana presidential primary and that if they have the right to vote in May he desired an official opinion without delay.

Mr. Spencer, in an opinion given to the Indiana Franchise League, held that women do not have the right to vote at the primary. Mr. Thompson and Charles O. Roomler, who were requested to give an opinion to the Republican state committee, held that the law provides that women may vote for presidential electors only and that this would not entitle them to vote at the primary.

On the other hand, Ele Stansbury, attorney general, gave as his private opinion that the law is broad enough to permit women to express their choice for presidential candidates at the primary.

Valier's Enterprise Flour is made for those who appreciate extra good results in home-baking. It is milled from only the choicest flour part of the highest grade wheat, by a special, slow, silk-sifting process.

It is so far superior to ordinary flour that only a trial can make you realize the difference.

You'll find it delightful to bake with such flour—and economical, too, because it makes so much more baking per sack than ordinary flour.

"Community" is Valier's high-grade popular-priced flour. It has made hosts of friends.

Fighting Hunger

Hunger is never more than a few days away from the American people.

The coal strike showed us what a narrow margin the country goes on, even in a non-perishable necessity which can be stored.

Swift & Company is engaged in the business of fighting hunger.

From coast to coast, from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, the lines of defense are drawn—packing plants at strategic points; branch houses in four hundred towns and cities; hundreds of car routes; thousands of refrigerator cars; tens of thousands of loyal men and women expert in their work.

Day by day, hour by hour ceaselessly, this fight, your fight, goes on. Yet so smoothly, surely and victoriously that you, unaware how close hunger always is, are as certain each night of tomorrow's meat as you are of tomorrow's sun.

And so economically is this done that the cost to you for this service is less than three cents a pound of meat sold. The profit shared in by more than 30,000 shareholders whose money makes the victory possible is only a fraction of a cent a pound on all products.

If hunger did not make it necessary for us to fight this fight in the best possible way for all concerned, the competition of hundreds of other packers, large and small, would compel us.

ALLIGATOR IN NEVADA RIVER

Trapped After It Had Killed a Number of Calves on Frey's Ranch.

Winnemucca, Nev.—James Bryant and William Brennan, veteran Nevada trappers and hunters, arrived here recently with a tale of having trapped an alligator on the Humboldt river, near Frank Frey's ranch, west of Winnemucca.

Bryant and Brennan trapped the alligator after it had killed a number of calves on the Frey ranch and put the entire district in fear of going near the river. The trappers say it was an alligator that escaped from a circus train at Imlay a few years ago and has been living in the Humboldt river ever since. The alligator skin will be made up into a traveling bag by Frey. In addition to the alligator the trappers secured a large number of muskrats, beaver, otter, coyotes and wildcats.

Attendance at Inter-church
Meeting Here Today.

STATE SPEAKERS ON PROGRAM

Members of Speaking Team Explain
New World Movement—Much Interest Manifested.

A county meeting of the Inter-church World Movement was held at the First Baptist church in this city today. The morning session opened at 10 o'clock and was addressed by Mr. Haven and Mrs. Badger, of Ve-vay, members of a speaking team sent here to explain the Interchurch World Movement plan. Other speakers at the meeting this morning were Morris F. Edgar, president of the Seymour Business College, and the Rev. F. A. Hayward, pastor of the First Baptist church and County Chairman. Among the out-of-town people present at the meeting this morning were the Rev. and Mrs. Glenn O. Mills and Miss Ida Perry, of Brownstown.

The afternoon session opened at 3 o'clock this afternoon with an address by Mr. Taylor, a member of the speaking party. The Interchurch movement was discussed from every angle and plans were made for the campaign in this county.

The evening session will convene at 7:30 o'clock and a splendid program has been arranged including stereopticon pictures. Several interesting Interchurch movement talks will be made. The members of the speaking team that took charge of the meeting here today will go to Salem Wednesday in the interest of the Inter-church campaign. Mr. Hayward will accompany the party to that city.

The inclement weather interfered with the attendance at the county meeting today. About twenty persons were in attendance at the morning session and the afternoon attendance at the meeting was small. However, it is hoped that a large representation of church workers in the city and from over the county will be present at the meeting tonight.

SEEKS AID FOR IRELAND

Rev. J. A. H. Irwin, M. A., B. D., Ph.D., a prominent member of the Irish Presbyterian clergy, and pastor of the congregation of Killead, one of the largest rural parishes in Ulster, has arrived in America to appeal to American audiences for recognition of the republic of Ireland. While here he will co-operate with Eamon de Valera, president of the republic, and other members of the republican mission.

The Reason.

"Can you let me in to see this piece?"
"No, sir; this is no passing show."

THINGS LOOKED GLOOMY FOR HIM WHEN AID CAME

Ettinger Had Almost Abandoned Hope of Regaining Health, Before Trying Trutona.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 5—"My husband had tried so many kinds of medicines without getting relief that he was discouraged when Trutona was recommended to him; but after ten days treatment of the perfect tonic he said he felt like a man made over again." This was the statement made recently to a Trutona representative by Mrs. Harry Ettinger, 429 West Abbott street, Indianapolis.

"Mr. Ettinger had suffered from kidney and liver trouble for many years," she continued. "It seemed that his bowels would not act without the aid of laxatives. He was never hungry and would have to get up several times during the night on account of his kidneys. He also experienced severe pains in his back."

"Instead of struggling as he used to in getting up from his chair, my husband can arise now as quickly as anyone, because he does not suffer with the former severe pains in his back, since he's taken Trutona. He declares that his bowels are more regular than they've been for years and says he really feels like a new man. My husband has told his fellow workmen at Van Vamp's about Trutona and a great many have taken his advice and are now using the tonic."

Trutona is really a medicine of unusual merit. It is unsurpassed as a reconstructive agency, system purifier and body invigorant. It has been declared peerless as a treatment for stomach, liver and bowel troubles.

New treatment relieves burning feet

You can't enjoy life while your feet are tired, feverish and aching. Start in now to make them sound and firm. Bathe the feet in warm water. Then apply Turpo to the sole, heel, toes, between the toes—wherever there is pain or inflammation. Massage until the grateful warm feeling changes into a wonderful coolness. Oh what a relief! Repeat night and morning and soon your foot troubles will be gone for good. Turpo is the only Turpentine ointment. It contains also Menthol and Camphor, three well-known old-time remedies. Fine too for headache, colds, cuts and aches of all kinds. at your druggist's.

JUDGE MAKES ERRONEOUS PREDICTION REGARDING LAWYER

"About one clean shirt is all I thought he would ever wear. He had fallen away to a mere shadow; was as yellow as saffron and often doubled up with pain. Doctors continually gave him morphine and were about to operate for gall stones. May's Wonderful Remedy quickly restored him to perfect health again." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. All druggists.

The Valley of the Giants

The first story to adequately portray the majesty and grandeur of the big tree section of California and to use it as an effective setting for a stirring work of fiction.

Peter B. Kyne

in this principality of the woods, the redwood forests; an area four hundred miles long and of an average width of thirty miles; has introduced events and human participants well in keeping with the stupendous environment. The people are those who conquered a wilderness and hewed out a path for civilization—prototypes of the forest giants against which they prevailed. True to its locality and written by one who has lived among and been a part of the life he so delightfully pictures, it is one of the big books of American romance, action and incident. To know Kyne in any of his stories is wholesome; to know "The Valley of the Giants" is exhilarating in the highest degree.

He choked upon his duty until Raynor spoke, smiling broadly. "I find my duty really a privilege," he said. "Not only are you not Mrs. Bashford," he went on with the utmost good humor, "but you are a very different person. I should explain that I represent the American state department, and that our government has been asked by the British embassy to find you and deliver a certain message to you."

"Oh, papa wants me to come home!" cried Alice. "It's droll, Constance, that papa should have thought of making an affair of state of us. Dear papa will always indulge me just so far, and then he becomes alarmed."
"He's certainly alarmed now!" laughed Raynor. "But the ambassador has warned us to be most tactful and circumspect. You may not know that Sir Arnold Seabring is on his way to this country on a confidential mission. That, of course, is not for publication."
"Sir Arnold Seabring?" gasped Torrence.
"The father of the Honorable Miss Seabring," replied Raynor with an elucidating nod toward Alice.
"But how—" I began.
"Mrs. Bashford, the widow of your uncle, is the Honorable Miss Seabring's aunt. Is that quite correct?"
"It is all true," said Alice. "I am a fraud, an impostor. You might go on and say that Mrs. Farnsworth is the wife of Sir Cecil Arrowsmith. But all the guilt is mine. It was my idea to come here and play a little, because I knew Aunt Alice wouldn't mind. She knew just what I meant to do; really she did, Mr. Torrence! In fact, I have her written permission to use the house; which I should have shown you if we had got in a pinch. But it seemed so much more fun just to let matters take their course. It's a pet theory of mine that life is a dull affair unless we trust to luck a little. After my brother's death I was very unhappy and had gone out East to visit Aunt Alice, who is a great roamer. I thought it would be nice to stop here on the way home, just for a lark, without telling papa, who was frantically cabling me to hurry back to England. This isn't the first time I've played hide-and-seek with my family. I was always doing that as a child; and if it hadn't been for my general waywardness I should never have known you, Constance. Why, I shouldn't have known you, gentlemen! It has all been so delightful!"
This naive confession amused Raynor greatly, but Torrence was seeing nothing in it but a dangerous escapade.
"In the name of the Bainbridge Trust company, I must notify you," he began, "that by representing yourself as another person, entering into possession of a large property—"
"But we've been paying all our own expenses; we haven't taken any money from you," pleaded Alice.
"Of course you wouldn't do such a thing," affirmed Raynor. "My instructions are to give you any sum of money you ask. In fact, the government of the United States is instructed to assume full responsibility for you until your father arrives."

In the Spring Time

Any fool knows enough to carry an umbrella when it rains, but the wise man is he who carries one when it is only cloudy. Any man will send for a doctor when he gets bedfast, but the wiser one is he who adopts proper measures before his illness becomes serious. During a hard winter or the following spring one feels run-down, tired out, weak and nervous. Probably you have suffered from a cold, the Grip or flu, which has left you thin, weak and pale. This is the time to put your system in order. It is time for house-cleaning.
A good, old-fashioned alterative and temperance tonic is one made of wild roots and barks, without the use of alcohol, and called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in tablet or liquid form. This is nature's tonic, which restores the tone of the stomach, activity of the liver and steadiness to the nerves, strengthening the whole system. First put up by Dr. Pierce over 50 years ago, now procurable at any drug store; or send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

"May I go on and clarify matters for these gentlemen, for Mr. Torrence at least is entitled to a full explanation?"
"Constance," said Alice, turning with a little shrug to her friend, "we have been caught! Our story is being spoiled for us. Please go on, Mr. Raynor. Just what does the American state department have to say about us?"
"That you are endowed with a very unusual personality," continued Raynor, his eyes twinkling. "You are not at all content to remain in that station of life to which you were born; you like playing at being all sorts of other persons. Once, so your friend the ambassador confided to me, you ran away and followed a band of gypsies, which must have been when you were a very little girl."
"It was seven," said Alice, "and the gypsies were nice to me."
"And then you showed talent for the stage—"
"A dreadful revelation!" she exclaimed.
"But you don't know that it was really your father who managed to have Mrs. Farnsworth, one of the most distinguished actresses in England, take charge of you."
"No! Alice never knew that!" said Mrs. Farnsworth, laughing. "I was her chaperon as well as her preceptor, but Alice's father knew that if Alice found it out it would spoil the adventure for her. Alice must do things her own way."
"You are a fraud," said Alice, "but I always suspected you a little."
"Speaking of the stage," resumed Raynor, "it is also a part of my instructions that the Honorable Miss Seabring shall be discouraged from any further adventure in that direction; she's far too talented; there's danger of her becoming a great luminary. In other words, she is not to grace the boards again as Violet Dewling."
Alice's brow clouded, and she turned to me. "That was settled when you

WORKS HARD TO AVERT FLU EPIDEMIC

Government and City Health Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.
Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.
People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.
The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply.
He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days.
Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.
Pour three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.
Gargle the throat as directed and sniff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.
Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcine in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

mailed that letter for me. It was to make an appointment with an American playwright who wants me to appear in a most adorable comedy."
"His name is Dick Searies," I said, "and he's my most intimate friend."
She professed indignation when I told of my eavesdropping in the woods, but when I explained that I knew all about the play and Searies' despairing search for her she was enormously pleased.

"How wonderful!" she exclaimed. "You know I told you, Constance, that if we really threw ourselves in the path of adventure mystery would come out to meet us in silken sandals."
"But you will not appear in this play?" asked Raynor anxiously. "It is the business of the government of the United States to see that you commit no further indiscretions. There is another matter which I hope you can clear up. You are not only a subject of concern to the British embassy, but the French ambassador also has appealed to us to assist him in a trifling matter!"
"The French ambassador?" Alice exclaimed with a surprise I knew to be unfeigned. "I thought the dear Montani was an Italian?"
"We will continue to call him Montani, but he's a Frenchman and one of the keenest men in the French secret service. You have caused him the deepest anguish."
"Please hurry on!" She bent forward with childish delight. "This is a part of the story we've been living that I really know nothing about. I hope it won't be disappointing!"
Raynor laughed and shook his head.

"It's fortunate that Montani is a gentleman, anxious to shield and protect you. You have a fan in your hand—"
She spread it out for inspection.
"A harmless trinket, but without it the adventure would have been very tame."
"The story of the fan is in the most secret archives of Paris and Washington. When you were packing up in Tokyo to come home on the very last day before your departure a lady called on you whom you knew as Madame Volkoff."

payable at the rate of approximately $25 for each fifty-foot lot in the city. But the construction of a main channel is just the beginning of the sewerage system. Laterals would have to be built into every part of the city so that sanitary drainage would be afforded for each lot. The construction of these laterals would be chargeable to the property benefited and it is estimated that each fifty-foot lot would be assessed about $225 additional for the construction of laterals. Of course, lots which now have sanitary sewerage would not be assessed anything like that amount as the tile is already laid and ready for service. Lots that have sanitary sewerage connection would likely be assessed about $25 in addition to the assessment for the main sewer channel.

for tile under the street intersections. Property owners affected by the improvement would have the advantage of the Barrett law under which the expense could be divided over ten years, equal installments of one-tenth the entire amount being payable annually.

The point for the council to decide, it is pointed out, is whether or not the referendum will be asked before the preliminary survey is made or afterwards. If the voters should decide against the improvement the first survey would result in a useless expenditure of money. If the majority of the property owners favor the improvement the assessment, whatever it may be, against the lots in the city would be general and no option would be given the owners whether or not they desire to take advantage of the system. Laterals would be constructed on all streets and the lots would be held responsible until the assessments were paid.

U. S. ENTERED WAR THREE YEARS AGO

down new enemies. The central powers are defeated, but domestic issues of tremendous importance have since arisen. Comparatively new words such as "profiteer," "bol-shevik" and other terms have become commonplace in the minds and thoughts of the American people. American institutions for which the soldiers fought have at times even been threatened, but each time American loyalty and determination which played such an important part in the World conflict have preserved the government.

Before the war closed, the majority of people believed that peace would be declared at the earliest opportunity. But fate decreed otherwise. The league of nations came into being along with the treaty and then follow a long controversy in the American senate as to whether or not it would be adopted. The argument has not yet ended and may be carried to the American people in the next national election. Thus the United States is technically at war with the central powers, although fighting has stopped and the American expeditionary force has been returned to this country. The three years since the United States entered the war have seemed a lifetime for many Jackson county people. But the American people have a way of forgetting their troubles and of devoting their thought and energy to present day conditions. That is what they are doing now. New problems demand their undivided effort and these in due time will be correctly solved for the benefit of the majority who control America and for whom the government is maintained.
